

A Beauty and the Beast Tidbit (100 words)

by Angie

Yule Spirit

A ghostly artist decided to create a suitable Yuletide gift for his favourite couple. His capabilities were limited, but more than sufficient.

In the dead of night, in the painted tunnels, using Elizabeth's paints, he created an image.

Visitors, for soon there were many, saw a wealth of emerald green, figured with gold braid, tapering upwards until it reached two hands, one large, one small. It tapered further to two faces, one unique but both beautiful, locked in a kiss. Above their hooded hair, the North Star shone benignly.

An invisible Kristopher smiled. This time he had got it right!
