

For Love of Ginger

When Catherine thought of her love, she often thought of ginger; the colour, the taste, and because he was definitely spicy, sweet and 'hot' as well.

So a ginger treat seemed perfect, and she had the perfect recipe, one introduced in her office. Easy and fast! And no Joe to grab them!

Did Vincent have a sweet tooth? Well, if he didn't, she would just have to eat them all herself!

They were waiting when Vincent knocked on her patio door.

Later, she looked ruefully at the few crumbs left on the platter.

Darn it!

END

