

Farewell

(to the Treasure Chambers Onzine 2018)

By Anony Mouse

*I hope it took your breath away,
You wandered, and got 'lost'
Exploring "Peace Between The Walls,"
Not counting any cost.*

*I hope the writing made you smile.
I hope the art went well.
I hope the feelings still remain
Long after this farewell.*

*For all that starts must have a stop,
Even if the play's the thing.
A heart beats true; it's all for you.
"Shakespeare Knew Everything."*

*I hope the road bends back again
And sees you here next year.
I hope the time between is kind
And gives you no more tears.*

*But if you long for Tunnel Peace
And you can't wait 'til then,
Just turn back to "Invitation"
And know you can start again.*
