

OUT OF DARKNESS

by Stephanie Bruford

(from MASQUERADES '93)

*He is my life
She said to me
It is his wife
I would like to be
I didn't trust her
Thought she'd leave
Death has claimed her
Now we grieve*

*But Catherine in her wisdom
Has left her love a legacy
A piece of her and him
A son, so all can see
That, though death takes all
It cannot destroy
A love that transcends all*

*To create a boy
So pure and bright
Born of shadows and sun
To rekindle the light
My own beloved Grandson*
