

Forbidden Voices – Asunder

by Allison Duggins

This creature that my master Gabriel locked inside me is very strange.

Furs, claw, fangs - very strange indeed.

I can feel the crackle of electricity whenever the creature touches me, and I watch him react.

What kind of creature is he? Why does my master flinch when he sees him? My master knows I would never willingly release him, attack him, if I am able to contain him.

No matter the cost, I will keep him contained, to keep my master Gabriel safe.

This creature does have the ability to tear me asunder, only time will determine my fate.
