

WHAT IS HE DOING?

by Allison Duggins

Why is he hitting me?

Where did these strange people come from? They don't look like the people who installed me down here in this dank, dirty tunnel. I haven't seen those people in a very long time.

Hey, cut that out! Now someone else is doing it. What are they trying to do? I wasn't built for this.

Wait a minute. That's Morse Code. The ones named Pascal and John started it. They're using me to send messages to each other.

There's so few of them. What if they decide to continue this strange practice?

This could be interesting.
