

A Halloween Treat

by Angie

William regarded the enormous bowl of pumpkin seeds. They had carved a record number of jack-o-lanterns for Halloween, but something had to be done with these!

He usually roasted them with salt and pepper, but perhaps something more exotic was desirable.

“I have an idea,” came a quiet voice behind him. He turned to see Mary.

She told him and he smiled as he looked at the jar of herbs Devin had given him. The very thing, he thought, using one of Father's favourite phrases.

The result was tasty, popular, and a sure thing for another year, William decided!
