

WALK THE WORLD FOR ME

by Trisha Kehoe

*My beloved walks in sunshine
To shadows, always, must I keep Her world is bright and beautiful
Mine is dark and deep*

*Like silken threads which touch in love's fine web
Has woven her life through mine
Oh, never was there such a yearning
She alone heard and defined*

*She took my fear into her soul, and in that fierce Proud moment, set me free
Humbled, I gave the only pledge she asked
Yes, dearest heart, I shall live the dream
For you, while you walk the world
For me*
